Helping Hands Gets a Helping Hand

Amber Brocke and her fiancée, Curt Cady, have been busy constructing a shelter for the animals she rescues and fosters through Helping Hands. They have been using recycled wood from the 100-year-old house that stood on the site and a 50-year-old barn that fell down.

Helping Hands is a non-profit organization made up of volunteers who foster rescued pets. Many pets are abandoned and unfortunately, many are abused. Amber and Curt foster predominately cats and dogs; however, they have also rescued horses and other animals in the past.

In 2022, Helping Hands rescued and found homes for 231 dogs and 413 cats. That's a lot of animals! They are funded solely from donations from the community. 97% of the funds that they receive are used for vet services and emergencies, to spay and neuter the pets, and food for the pets that come into their care.

Boaz and Erin Davis of the Juliaetta area have been active participants as well as many other pet lovers.

Helping Hands is always in need of new fosters where pets can be placed until they can find a new, loving home. If you are interested in becoming a foster or if you are thinking of replacing or adopting a pet, think of Helping Hands. Amber can be contacted at abrocke@hotmail.com or 208-289-5134.

How can you help? Remember Helping Hands with your year end giving. Spay and neuter your pets. When you need a pet, contact Amber or Erin. Sharon Harris

News from the Senior Center

As the old saying goes, "If it has working parts, it will quit working one day." Our refrigerator died and had to be replaced. We are continuing our remodel to the kitchen and updating the cooking utensils.

We have installed doors on the entry-way closet. This was using the last of our grant money.

You are most welcome to come for lunch on Wednesday or Friday. The meal is served at noon. Come and join the camaraderie and visit with some folks you have not seen for a while.

Sharon Harris

At the Grange

The Grange sponsored Soup with Santa to launch the holiday season on November 19th. The eager children lined up to see Santa and receive a small gift. One youngster, Joe Thompson (right), is pleased with Santa.

The hall has been the scene of much activity lately. Jack Silflow hosted his Santa's Christmas Store for children to shop for their parents and family.

The Hill and Valley Garden Club hosted their annual Wreath Sale at the hall on Friday, December 9th.

We hope you enjoyed the decorations in the hall this season. We wish you the happiest new year. Sharon Harris

Kendrick VFW News

The VFW Memorial at the Kendrick Park is decked out in festive fashion for the season to honor those who have served in military service.

Members enjoyed a fun Christmas Party on December 10th. They enjoyed good food, a gift exchange, and then played Bingo to further enjoy the evening.

Their current project is helping a homeless veteran find housing locally. The Post will pay his rent and help him re-establish his life. Sharon Harris

Lion's Club had a Busy December

The Club had a "spouse" night celebration in November. Our cook, Chris Schmeidel, served a delicious meal. Plans are going forth for a celebration of Charter Night as next year will be the club's 70th year.

The Lions Club helped with the Christmas Lighting Project in the Park in preparation for the Lighting of the Park event held November 19th. The Club, as usual, sponsored Santa's visit to town on Christmas Eve to give treats to the kids.

The club held a worknight for the mailing of the Community Calendars, which is a large project. By now, all should have received their new calendars. There are extras for sale at Latah Credit Union. We thank you for supporting this fundraiser that helps us support our communities. Sharon Harris

Christmas at Leland Church

Oh, the magic of the Christmas tree! The little Webb girls admired the tree at Leland the first day it was up.

There is also a new star on the east side of the church that was constructed by Doug Harris and erected by Nate Tschetter and Randy Clemenhagen.

Keith Hoyt, of Gideons International, was our guest speaker on December 4th.

Near the end of services on December 11th, the distinct sound of knocking could be heard. Who would knock on the door before entering? Finally, we determined it was a woodpecker having brunch on our church building.

The church family enjoyed Christmas candlelight service together on Christmas Day. Worship consisted of solos by the Wencentson Youth Singers and Jim Green. There was hymn singing and the Christmas Story as we celebrated the birth of Christ.

We wish you many blessings in the New Year.

Sharon Harris

Cameron Emmanuel Lutheran

"O little town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie".....Bethlehem was a sleepy little town very near Jerusalem, where the whole Israelite nation had been summoned to come for a census. All lodging was jam-packed - and maybe not so quiet - so when a couple arrived from Nazareth after several days of travel, there was not a room to be had. Someone was kind enough to allow them a space in their animal shelter, where not too long after there was the beautiful cry of a newborn baby. The baby's first visitors were some shepherds who had been told by an angel, then a bunch of heavenly beings singing and praising God, about the new baby. This baby, Jesus, was to turn all of history onto a new path that would include ALL people, even lowly people like the shepherds. Two thousand years later, we still celebrate His birth, but much more elaborately. We prepare for 25 days (Advent). We decorate - Cameron was blessed with Horst Reil's lovely Advent wreath, with its four red candles. We were blessed with dozens of Joanne Ger-tje's handmade musical creations and decorations, placed all over the church during a church decorating party. We were blessed with the first cantata since 2019, which gave honor and glory to Jesus and His birth. Above all, we are all blessed with this baby who came so long ago to change our lives and take us to Him. Keep Him close - He did not just come to create a spectacular winter celebration. He is our Savior in this life to prepare us for the next life: with Him. Celebrate that!

Sunday worship at Cameron is at 10:00 a.m. each Sunday, with the adult Sunday school class at 9:00. For any questions, call the church at 289-3471, or Pastor Craig Groseclose at 289-3472. Ann Taylor

Wreath-Making Elves Have Successful Sale

The elves that make Christmas wreaths at the Hill and Valley Garden Club want to thank everyone who came to the wreath sale on December 9 for your support. The sale was a smashing success and proceeds will be used throughout the year to support our communities in many ways: scholarships to seniors pursuing further education in agricultural areas, donations to help with publishing this newsletter, and funds to beautify our communities. A huge thank you for supporting this fundraiser! We will keep you posted on how we give back this coming year!

In addition to the wreath sale this year, a raffle was organized by member Sherill Calhoun. Thanks to our many generous businesses, the prizes that were awarded are as follows: Rivauro Wine pkg – Lori Brocke; Eden Enterprises luggage – Lisa Wolff; Furry Tales Farms Gift Basket – Barb Heimgartner; First Bank of Pizza Knife Set – Nadine Towne; Furry Tales Box of wine and goodies – Sherry Ireland; Nathan's Dog Bed and Accessories – Dylan Ingle; Humm Salon $50 gift card and basket – Marilou Taylor; Sky View Inn Air Fryer – Sherry Ireland; Kendrick Ag Mirror, Tray, and Candelabra – Lorelee Ortman; Tree by Sherill Calhoun – Roxanne Swearingen. Thank you, Kendrick and Juliaetta businesses and congratulations to the winners!

At every meeting our Environmental Awareness chairperson, Jeanne Ensley, gives us interesting and helpful ideas for reusing and recycling. At our October meeting she shared that old raspberry canes that you cut off in the fall are excellent kindling for starting a fire. Who knew? Sure would beat chopping kindling! Thanks, Jeanne!

A new member this year, Ann Parks, took on a name-tag project for us this fall. With many new members, Ann offered to order new nametags for all of us. She worked with Express Nametags from Weippe, and now we can all put names to faces. Thanks, Ann!

Perhaps you have noticed the small plaques amongst the plantings at Wallace Park. When we lose a member of our club, we place a memorial planting and a plaque with the member's name. It is a nice way to honor those members no longer with us. Stop by and see!

Please join us for a potluck at our meeting on January 24 at 1:00 at the Grange. We will have a gift exchange after the meeting. You are welcome to join the fun!

A Social Worker's Support

My name is Samantha Roberts, and I am a senior at Kendrick High School. For my senior project, I researched social work and how a social worker can help support the community. Having social workers in the community allows us the benefits of system resources like counseling and support groups.

During my project, I met with Mrs. Dionne Marek and asked her 20 interview questions that ranged from "How can a teenager be more involved and impactful in our community?" to "How can I show kids that are struggling with issues in life that there are more people to reach out to than just trusted adults or teachers?" One particular question I asked Mrs. Marek was, "Do you think there are quite a few kids struggling with issues in life in this community?" and Mrs. Marek responded with "Yes, especially because there are not a lot of resources available in rural communities like this to better families and individuals." This started me on the idea of something involving the youth in this community; I want to provide a safe platform and someone for kids to reach out to, like a youth group. I then asked Mrs. Marek, "Do you think community events led by teenagers can influence kids struggling with issues in life to see that there are more people to reach out to than just teachers and adults?" Mrs. Marek discussed something I hadn't yet heard of and something valuable for my future profession which was "youth impacting youth." This can be so important because kids often relate better, and feel more comfortable, with someone closer in age. As a future social worker and psychologist, I want to get an early start working with kids that have struggles in life, those that might need someone to talk to but don't have the resources because of personal reasons (i.e transportation, financial issues or beliefs).

There are a couple support groups in our area! One is a youth group at the Juliaetta Church of the Nazarene on Sunday evenings at 6pm and the other is a support group/bible study, open to anyone of any age, at the Kendrick United Methodist Church on Tuesday nights. The leader in Kendrick, Jasmine Lawson says "It's a place where you can come as you are and will be loved. There is no judgment." I would like to help these resources be utilized by the community to give our youth, and others, a helpful place to feel supported.

Nathan Todd Daniels

Nathan Todd Daniels, co-owner and operator of Nathan's Kendrick Café and Spirits tragically passed away on November 22, 2022, at the age of 49 in Greenleaf, ID. Nathan was born in Caldwell, ID, and was the only child of Roger and Patsy Daniels of Greenleaf, ID.

Nathan married his high school sweetheart, Michaela Littlefield Daniels in 1991, raising two children, Aspen and Reid.

He loved to hunt and fish and had an affinity for vintage cars. This summer will mark the 6th Annual Nathan's Greenleaf Café Car Show. Nathan was also an avid Steelers fan as visiting locals can attest to.

Many of us in the 7 Ridges communities grew to love both Nathan and Michaela for their welcoming, fun-loving spirits. They were both very generous and made everyone they met feel like family. We will miss them both very much and wish them God's peace.

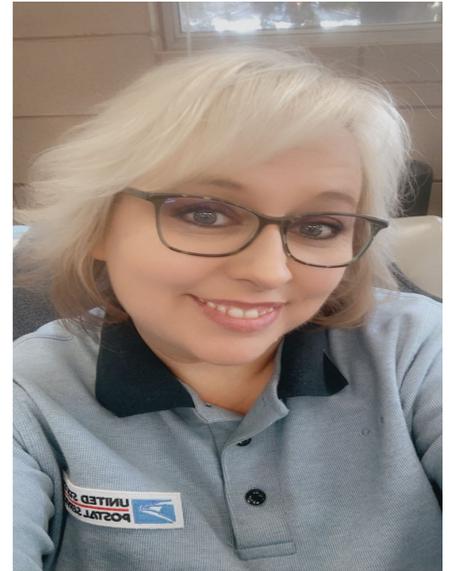

Nathan's services were held on December 17, 2022, at the Greenleaf Friends Academy gymnasium. The entire obituary can be viewed on the Dakan Funeral Chapel website. Sherill Calhoun

CARING ABOUT HER COMMUNITY

The Juliaetta Post Office is always “dressed up” for the change of seasons and every holiday.

This small-town hub has been run by the Queen Bee/ Post Office Clerk named Wendi Dodge for the past 2 years, who gives it some “personality” with all her decorations! Starting out as a part-time employee 10 years ago, Wendi has worked in 16 different post offices prior to Juliaetta, and she even remembers the names of them: Lenore, Ahsahka, St. Maries, Lewiston, Kendrick, Troy, Bovill, Deary, Potlatch, Harvard, Clarkston, Peck, Craigmont, Culatesac, Lapwai & Winchester! Her varied experience is what drives her to make sure the residents receive the BEST customer service possible and is always looking for ways to keep it a comfortable yet efficient place for the community.

Born to a military family living in Ft Hood, TX, she traveled across the country with her family, where she eventually settled in Lewiston. She finally landed in Juliaetta to raise her family. From her 2 adult sons, Brent & Garret, she has 3 granddaughters and 1 grandson. Her 2 youngest kids, Logan and Emilea, both attend Kendrick High School. Her other “kids” have 4 paws, including 2 dachshund pups and 2 cats.

Besides being a volunteer for the community EMT Ambulance, she also enjoys reading, cooking, crafting, and supporting her youngest kids' activities. She is now in the final stages of recovering from major back surgery and is thrilled to be back serving her community and keeping up with her customers who are ALWAYS greeted with a smile and friendly chats as she buzzes around the post office.

Be sure to visit the Juliaetta Post Office and say Hello and “Welcome Back” to Wendi. The hours are Monday through Friday (8:15am/11:30am – 1:30pm/4:15pm) and Saturday (7:00am/9:15am). Cheryl Rumbolz

JK Fire News

Be Safe

Heating, holiday decorations, winter storms and candles used during winter months all contribute to an increased risk of fire. Blow out lit candles when you leave the room or go to bed. More than one third of home decoration fires are started by candles.

*There are approximately 45,000 home electrical fires each year.

*Peak months for electrical fire deaths are November through March.

*Plug only 1 heat-producing appliance (like a coffee maker, space heater, or microwave) directly into a wall outlet at a time.

*Never use an extension cord with a heat-producing appliance.

*Have an electrician install additional wall outlets where you need them.

*Do not plug heaters into a power strip.

Watch for our upcoming firefighter breakfast this spring! Rose Norris

The Book Nook

What will I recommend this time around to those of you who share my passion for recreational reading? Well, let’s start with Where the Crawdad’s Sing by Della Owens. It is a heartbreaking coming of age novel about a young, abandoned girl, Kya, who manages to survive on her own in a marsh. It is a beautifully written book that follows her life right up to being on trial for murder. A fascinating read with a twist in the plot you will not expect.

Secondly, I enjoyed The Saints of Swallow Hill by Donna Everhart. This book is a real page turner as you are transported inside the Depression-era labor camps in the pine forests of the south. Experience the lives of three vagabonds, whose lives intertwine in the turpentine camps. A wonderful read.

I love reading historical fiction (you may have noticed.) The third book I will recommend is a World War II story that centers around the life of a Jewish youth, Felix, and Inge, the girl he loves. Inge is from an upper-class family who has betrothed her to a high-ranking Nazi soldier ten years older than her. Felix and Inge meet briefly and fall in love. This fascinating story takes you inside the Nazi death camps. The Fortunate Ones by Catherine Hoken is definitely worth reading.

I started reading a trilogy by Anne M. McLoughlin. The first book, Lives Apart is an Irish family saga. The family immigrated to Boston, San Francisco, and Nova Scotia after the potato famine. The second book, Lives Without End, explores the next generation of the family. They are both stories of courage amidst adversity and a family dealing with family secrets.

And then Anne McLoughlin let me down. The third book was supposed to be released in 2022 and is not out yet. Perhaps by the time you read it, all three will be in place. Sharon Harris

Turkey Vultures

All vultures are large birds. The turkey vulture has a wingspan of 63–72", a length of 24–32" and weighs from 2 to almost 5.5 lbs. Feathers are black with a brownish cast. The head has no feathers, and the red skin resembles that of a male turkey, hence the name "Turkey" vulture.

They are sighted most often as they soar on wind currents. They frequent open country where thermal drafts allow them to glide effortlessly. The flight pattern is wobbly circles and the wings, when seen head on, are held in a shallow "V". The feathers of the wing-tips spread apart slightly to resemble "fingers."

Vultures are the avian equivalent of garbage trucks. They feed upon carrion, from small to large mammals and even fish and animal dung. This performs a valuable service by reducing carrion which would otherwise be a breeding ground for germs and infectious diseases. Vultures (often called "buzzards") locate their meals by the odor. Their brains have unusually large olfactory lobes that are responsible for processing smells. These birds are drawn to the odor of ethyl mercaptan, a gas produced by the beginnings of decay in dead animals. Their keen sense of smell allows them to find carrion beneath forest canopies and other hidden locations. They want fresh carcasses and will avoid meat that has reached advanced putrefaction.

Turkey vultures roost in large community groups, often in dead or sparsely-leaved trees. In the daytime, they forage individually or in small groups.

These birds have a number of interesting, if disgusting, habits. When the weather is hot, they will defecate on their feet and legs. The evaporating liquid cools them and the white uric acid reflects heat. The stomach contents are extremely acidic allowing them to digest almost anything, even carcasses tainted with tuberculosis and rabies, without becoming ill. When threatened, they can projectile vomit a LONG distance, up to 10 feet! No wonder other creatures keep their distance!

Even youngsters have the skill of projectile vomiting, in addition to voicing threatening hisses. And speaking of youngsters, vulture pairs build no nests. They lay their eggs on bare ground, but generally in inaccessible places, like caves or high mountain crags.

~Nora Abbott
